Object: Update on EUDR alignment

Dear Customer,
Errebi Paper fully acknowledges the requirements established under the EU Deforestation Regulation (EUDR) and supports its aim to build a deforestation-free supply chain across the European market.
The European Commission, on 21 October 2025, presented targeted measures to ensure a smooth and timely implementation of the EUDR. These include:

- Simplification of obligations for micro and small operators, who will only need to submit a one-time declaration.
- A single due diligence declaration at the point of entry into the EU market, avoiding duplication along the supply chain.
- Application dates:
  - Large and medium-sized companies: from the effective application of the Regulation, with a six-month tolerance period for checks.
  - Micro and small companies: from the effective application of the Regulation at a later stage, as foreseen by the Commission.

In preparation, Errebi Paper has actively partnered with suppliers and industry experts to ensure compliance with all regulatory requirements within the required timeframes, subject to the delivery of the final instructions by the EU Commission.
Errebi Paper understands its responsibilities as part of the supply chain, which primarily involves ensuring that the paper we source is deforestation-free and compliant with the legislation of the country of production. We are committed to working collaboratively with our customers to provide the necessary information so that they can, in turn, fulfil their EUDR obligations as Operators or Traders.

By the effective application of the Regulation, all regulatory obligations applicable to our company will be fully met. While Errebi Paper does not place goods directly on the EU market or control their final destination, we remain deeply committed to supporting our customers with the information and tools they need to comply with the EUDR.
